England Freezes Millions Of Egypt's Assets; Call Dulles

PARIS (AP)—Britain and France took counter steps today against Egypt's abrupt seizure of the vital Suez Canal.

In a flurry of moves:
1. Britain froze Egypt's sterling balances and Suez Canal Co. assets in the United Kingdom. Egypt has some 346 million dollars in sterling balances alone in the United Kingdom.

2. Authorized sources said French Foreign Minister Christian Pineau and British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd have invited U. S. Secretary of State Dulles to London Monday for a full-scale meeting on the Suez crisis.

3. Pineau told the French National Assembly his government "refuses to accept" Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser's decision to take over the waterway linking the Mediterranean and the Red Sea.

Sources close the French Foreign and Finance Ministries had no word of a French move to freeze Egyptian assets in line with Britain's action. But a spokesman said some such step is envisaged.

Political leaders expected today that Douglas Elliott, Republican, and Charles McGee, Democrat, both of Franklin County, will be nominated possibly at two-county executive committee meetings by the two parties. ## DEADLINE FOR CAR INSPECTION IS ON TUESDAY

With more than three million motor vehicles eligible for semi-annual inspection, thousands of motorists who have not yet had their cars inspected during the current campaign were reminded today inspection deadline is Tuesday, July 31.

Secretary of Revenue Gerald A. Gleeson said that all passenger vehicles must carry the new inspection sticker by Wednesday, August 1, or they cannot be legally operated.

Recent spot-checks reveal that the vast majority of passenger cars seen on the streets carry the current inspection sticker.

Efforts by the Department of Revenue coupled with those of the official inspection station owners to encourage early inspections have been very successful, Secretary Gleeson said.

However, there are still a great number of automobiles that do not have the new sticker, especially in the metropolitan areas. Secretary Gleeson declared. Inspection station owners in these latter areas have requested the Department of Revenue to urge motorists to have their cars inspected and avoid the last minute rush.

Commercial vehicle owners were reminded their new inspection period will begin on August 1.

Death Toll In Sea Disaster Is Not Certain; 34 Missing

NEW YORK (AP)—The Italian Line sought today to untangle a knot of conflicting reports on how many persons are missing in the Andrea Doria disaster.

Meanwhile, the captain of the sunken Italian liner and the master of the Swedish ship Stockholm that collided with her kept silent about a possible cause of the crash.

Last night the Italian Line announced it has assigned 11 employees to the task of compiling an accurate tabulation of the passengers and crewmen rescued from the Andrea Doria before she plunged to the bottom of the Atlantic.

A cloud of confusion as thick as the fog on the night of the collision obscured reports of how many persons survived the sleek liner's death.

The line said there were 1,706 passengers and crewmen aboard the doomed ship. Coast Guard survivor figures indicate 34 are missing. The line's "rough" figures show seven not accounted for. On the basis of city police figures, no one is missing.

FOUR ARRESTED IN ROBBERY AND BEATING CASES

The arrest of four young men—two of them juveniles—by state police at Chambersburg following the brutal beating of a South Mountain storekeeper last Sunday morning has cleared up a May 17 burglary in the South Mountain area of Adams County in which an aged widow was robbed of $153.33.

The four youth will be charged in Franklin County with armed robbery and burglary and state police here will confer Monday with District Attorney Daniel E. Teeter on additional Adams County charges.

State police from Gettysburg questioned three members of the quartet who admitted they robbed Mrs. Susan Carbaugh May 17 and divided the loot.

Two of the young men were identified by state police as Robert Clinton Grove, 20, Payetteville R. 2, and Francis William Daywalt, 22, Waynesboro R. 1. The two juveniles, aged 17 and 15, were not indentified.

Robbed Aged Widow

Police reports here show that, about 11 o'clock on the night of May 17, two men, now identified as Grove and Daywalt, went to the home of 80-year-old Mrs. Carbaugh, a widow, and demanded her money. While one man guarded her the other searched the house and found several wallets containing the money they took.

The arrests followed police investigation of a brutal beating of Nicholas (Nick) Tipowitz, 60, South Mountain storekeeper. The youths were quoted by police as admitting they beat Tipowitz with a club in an unsuccessful effort to rob him and that they broke into Leon's taphouse near South Mountain.

Grove, reportedly on parole, and Daywalt are in the Franklin County jail while the juveniles are being held in separate detention rooms at Chambersburg.

Congress Passes Three Major Measures And Then Adjourns

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
WASHINGTON (AP)—The 84th Congress passed Social Security, foreign aid and housing bills, then adjourned at midnight amid horseplay in the House and oratory in the Senate.

During the final work-crowded session, futile efforts were made to enact immigration legislation. And civil rights backers in the Senate sought — admittedly without hope — to pry a House-passed bill out of committee.

The House finished its work first, recessing just before 9 p.m. The members then let their hair down in a song-and-play fest traditional to the ending of a Congress session.

In an outburst of bipartisan goodwill—which is not likely to last in the political campaigns ahead—the House adopted unanimously a resolution praising the way Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex.) had wielded his gavel.

Didn't Finish Speech

In the Senate, the final moments were taken up with speeches by senators deploring the fact that civil rights legislation remained bottled up in the Judiciary Committee. In fact, Sen. Bender (R-Ohio) was in the middle of an oratorical flight when the Senate reached the midnight adjournment hour. He never finished.

Before heading for home—and re-election campaigns, in many cases—Congress agreed to reconvene on Monday, Jan. 7, barring an emergency.

When the 85th Congress meets, a number of veteran lawmakers will be missing. These include Sen. Walter George (D-Ga.), Sen. Eugene Millikin (R-Colo.), and Rep. James P. Richards (D-SC). They decided not to seek re-election.

The legislative record of the Democratic-controlled 84th Congress—both the bills it passed and those it defeated or bypassed—was sure to figure strongly in the coming campaign for the presidency and for a majority in the next Congress.

Fair To Good Record

Summing up, Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas said Congress overrode "narrow" partisanship and gave (Continued On Page 3)

TRY TO SPEED NEW 3-YEAR STEEL PACTS

By JOE BRADIS
PITTSBURGH (AP)—Steel negotiators worked today on contract language to speed up the formal signing of a three-year agreement to end the crippling nationwide steel strike.

A settlement of the 28-day strike was announced in New York yesterday but the formal end will not come until next week. President David J. McDonald of the steelworkers' union said it would take "several days" to complete the contracts with the steel industry.

The contract, longest negotiated in the union's 20 year history, calls for a direct wage boost of 10 1/2 cents an hour in the first year, 9 1/2 cents in the second year, and an additional 9 1/2 cents in the third year. This adds up to an overall total in wages of 28.7 cents.

Differ On Figures
The union pegged the overall settlement at 45.6 cents an hour. Industry sources estimate the three-year no strike package is worth between 52 and 55 cents.

An almost immediate price increase of $10 or more a ton on steel—now costing an average of $130—is widely predicted.

The 650,000 steelworkers must wait until the signing of the contracts before they can go back to work. Steel companies estimate it will require from three to 10 days to get steel into full production.

Miners To Resume
The settlement quickly geared the allied industries into action where the strike idled an estimated 130,000—most of them in railroads, transportation and captive coal mines.

U.S. Steel Corp. said its captive operations in West Virginia and Kentucky would resume operations Sunday night. Some 30,000 miners in company-owned mines were furloughed.

The Pennsylvania and Reading Railroads said they will start next week recalling some of 19,100 employees idled during the strike. The PRR laid off 18,000 of its 105,000 employees and Reading furloughed 1,100 workers.

Get Layoff Pay Plan
Beside the wage increase, the union also won a 52-week layoff pay plan providing benefits equal to 65 per cent of take home pay, a union ship clause, and a review every six months for a cost of living increase if warranted.

There is no provision in the new contract for reopening the wages. In previous years even two-year contracts contained this clause.

Other terms of the steel settlement include premium pay for Sunday work; a smaller premium for holiday work; shift premiums for afternoon and night work starting in 1958; improved pensions and insurance on employee-contributory basis; additional vacation, and one more holiday.

Before the strike the steelworkers averaged $2.46 an hour, including overtime.

SHIPS' CRASH FATAL TO BABY

BOSTON (AP)—Their dreams of a happy new home in the United States shattered, Mr. and Mrs. Turio Desandro went into seclusion today.

But their thoughts were only of their pretty, 4-year-old daughter, Norma, youngest victim of collision between the liners Andrea Doria and Stockholm.

The dark-haired youngster succumbed to a skull fracture last night — some 44 hours after the crash on the fog-shrouded Atlantic Wednesday night. She had undergone a brain operation Thursday night.

Later the parents received the dreaded news from an Italian-speaking Catholic priest in an adjoining hospital room.

The Desandros — near collapse from the harrowing experience of the ship collision and strain of not knowing whether Norma was dead or alive — arrived at her bedside early yesterday morning.

Dropped Baby 15 Feet
Earlier Norma's father told of the fateful moments aboard the Andrea Doria, her hull ripped open by the collision.

He said he and his wife ran to the deck with Norma. "I thought we'd better jump," he related. "I didn't want to carry the baby in my arms. If she went with me she might have drowned."

In desperation, they decided to drop Norma the 15 feet into the arms of those in the lifeboat below.

"Maybe that's when she was hurt," he said. "Maybe someone dropped her, or she didn't land right. I don't know. I just don't know."

Today, their worldly possessions are somewhere in the depths of the Atlantic, their dreams of a rich new life gone.

"I ASK GOD"

On bended knees I offer up
... a prayer to God on high
... requesting faith to struggle
on ... patience so I can try
... I seek a love noble and true
... on which I can depend
... a sincere smile, a tender
kiss ... I want for children
as I know ... without them
life is blue ... one bit of childish laughter can ...
brighten the darkest view ...
I ask for friends, the lasting
kind ... friends foster untold cheer ... good fellowship and brotherhood ... erase all doubt and fear ... I plead for dreams that give to life ... a most endearing glow ... those who can dream have what it takes
... to conquer any foe ...
I do not ask for golden coin
... from God who rules mankind ... but for the treasures
that can give ... a blessed peace of mind.

INTERNATIONAL TUG OF WAR ON SUEZ SHAPES UP

By DAVE MASON

PARIS (AP)—An international tug
of war over the assets and future of the Suez Canal Co. shaped up today in the wake of Egypt's abrupt seizure of the great waterway.

A British protest against the takeover met a sharp rejection
from the Egyptian government which declared the seizure was an act within Egypt's sovereignty.

State Department officials conferring in Washington on the crisis
said it probably will be early next week before the United States,
Britain and France form a plan
to deal with the seizure.

Might Challenge

British officials reportedly feel that with U.S. backing it would be practicable to challenge Egypt's control of the canal by sending through a British ship
which would refuse to recognize Egyptian authority.

Egypt announced Thursday the canal had been nationalized and
military law imposed on the canal zone.

French financial and diplomatic circles speculated, meanwhile,
just how Egyptian President Gam-
al Abdel Nasser intended to enforce his decree freezing all foreign assets of the Suez Canal Co.
and demanding they be turned over to his new nationalized firm.

Banks Given Notice

Suez Canal Co. directors in France and Britain put all banks
on notice yesterday that the company's belongings "whatever and wherever they be" are still its property. Directors warned the banks to ignore any orders given them by the Egyptian government.

Officials also wondered what Nasser intended to do about the established practice of most shipping firms to pay canal transit
charges in Paris and London—
not in Egypt—to the credit of the company. This practice has been followed by most heavy users of the waterway.

There was speculation whether Nasser would go so far as to constrain shipping firms to pay off
in Egypt by threatening to deny them access to the canal. Such action would violate the 1888 Constantinople Convention providing free access to all ships in peace
or war.

How About Personnel?

A Nasser aide has said nationalization would not affect navigation of ships through the waterway.
Still another pressing question
was how long Nasser plans to hold foreign canal administrative and technical help on their jobs under a warning of possible imprisonment if they quit without permission.

The canal company employs 188 pilots of various nationalities
and about 600 administrators and technicians—most of them French.

NICE WEATHER IS FORECAST

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Pleasant summer weather was the outlook today from the Dakotas to New England and most of the West Coast but wet and hot weather was in prospect for many other parts of the country.

The cool air which moved southward from Canada extended over most of the northern Plains, the Upper Mississippi Valley and the Upper Great Lakes region. It headed eastward and was expected to spread over most of New England during the day.

Temperatures in the cool belt
were from 10 to 15 degrees lower than 24 hours earlier. One of the lowest readings was 50 degrees at Pellston, Mich.

Widely scattered thundershowers were reported in several sections of the country during the night and early morning. In the Southeast, rainfall generally
was light, although Macon, Ga.,
and Charleston, S.C., each reported
more than a half inch.

Thundershowers also occurred
in the Ohio Valley, the Upper Mississippi Valley westward through the Northern Plains and the Rockies and the southwestern desert
region.

2 Polish Air Cadets Escape Iron Rule

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—Two anti-

Communist Polish air cadets flew across the Iron Curtain in a stolen
military plane today and asked for political asylum.

They landed the small training
plane at Oberbergen, a village
near Krems in lower Austria, and told Austrian police they fled to escape "unbearable living conditions" in their Communist-ruled homeland.

The airmen said they were stationed at an air field near Warsaw and took off in the two-seater
plane last night intending to fly to Munich in West Germany. They ran out of fuel and made a forced landing in Austria after flying 380 miles.

The Poles gave their names as Bogdan Biskupski, 21, and Karol Kruk, 20, both cadets at a Polish
air force training school.

AIRMAN NAMED OUTSTANDING

A 2C James H. Paris, son of Mr.
and Mrs. R. H. Paris, R. 5, has been selected as the outstanding airman
of the 7330th USAF Hospital
(M.D.A.P.) for his unit.

The award is granted to the airman who, in the opinion of his officers and non-commissioned officers, has "the most outstanding

record of achievement in his duties,
behavior, on and off duty, and cooperation with his co-workers during the preceding three months."

Airman Paris, who is serving with the air force in Germany, was previously stationed at the Maxwell AFB, Montgomery, Ala. He left this country in March.

Congress

President Eisenhower most of what he asked. Senate Republican Leader Knowland of California pronounced the legislative record "fair to good"—but he indicated strongly he felt a GOP-controlled Congress would have done better.

Final action on much of the major legislation of the 1956 session
was crammed into the final hours
last night.

Bills sent to Eisenhower just before adjournment included the Social Security bill, the foreign aid bill of more than $4 billion, an ombudsman house bill, a 7½-billion-
dollar flood insurance measure,
a 1½ billion rivers and harbors
bill, and a $2,182,000,000 money
bill mostly containing funds for the Atomic Energy Commission.

Expect Approval

Although key provisions of the Social Security bill were opposed
by the Eisenhower administration, Senate Republicans joined Democrats in predicting the President
would sign the compromise
measure.

Under its provisions, the retirement age for women eligible for Social Security payments would be lowered from 65 to 62. And a new program would furnish benefits to persons totally disabled at age 50
or older.

The bill also raises Social Security taxes, effective next Jan.
1, from 2 to 2½ per cent on both employer and employee, applying to the first $4,200 of a worker's annual earnings.

Furthermore, it extends coverage to about 225,000 more persons,
mainly in certain professional groups.

Foreign Aid Is Short

The foreign aid bill falls well over one billion dollars short of what Eisenhower asked to bolster
free world nations against communism.

It was the housing bill that for a time yesterday posed the main
threat to adjournment on schedule. But this obstacle melted away
last night when both House and Senate approved a compromise
hammered out by a conference
group a while earlier.

An earlier battle over public housing had been resolved in favor of a House provision for 35-000 such units in each of the next two years. Eisenhower had favored this total. Most of the rest of the bill's provisions were non-controversial. They would continue federal home loan mortgage insurance, slum clearance, college
housing and a home repair program.

The immigration issue arose unexpectedly during the day when the Senate passed by voice vote a bill to relax quota restrictions.

When the matter got to the House, Rep. Walter (D-Pa.), co-author of the present controversial McCarran-Walter Immigration Law, blocked consideration of the bill there.

Idled Workers To Resume Work Monday

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Workers
furloughed by the Pennsylvania Railroad and the Reading Co. because of the national steel strike
will start returning to work Monday, the railroads have announced.
The Pennsylvania, which laid off
18,000 of its 105,000 workers, said
it expected to recall all those it
idled by two weeks after steel mills return to production.

The Reading said 967 furloughed
workers at its Reading, Pa.,
shops would return Monday and that 150 clerical workers and members of train crews would be recalled as freight orders increase.

The Pennsylvania had attributed the furloughs to a 30 per cent decrease in freight traffic since the steel strike began July 1. The strike caused sharp reductions in shipments of ore, limestone, finished steel and coal.

CREW OF LOST SHIP ACCUSED OF NEGLIGENCE

NEW YORK (AP)—A group of survivors of the Andrea Doria have accused the ship's personnel of
"complete negligence" at the time the Italian liner collided with the Swedish motorship Stockholm.

Many other passengers had different versions and words of praise for the crew.
The accusation was made in a typewritten statement Thursday night addressed to news media. It was signed by 90 persons brought here aboard the freighter Cape Ann,
and was given to a newsmen by Arthur Fisher of New York City,
who is in the textile business.

The statement said, "There existed a state of complete negligence on the part of the crew and officers toward its obligations and responsibilities to the safety of the passengers of the ship."

The statement further charged
no proper alarm drill was held on the westbound crossing, that no
alarm was sounded when the ship
was struck, and that no notice was given to abandon ship.

The statement added:
"There was no indication of life-
boat stations or procedure beyond
wearing of lifebelts."

"No instructions were received by public address system (which was in operating condition) or by word of mouth from the crew
that danger was imminent and lifebelts should be donned."

"As a result, passengers acted on their own initiative at the reversing of the motors, the impact of the collision, the immediate listing of the ship, the fumes and water which entered some cabins
and passageways, and the instant
panic which broke loose."

The statement continued:
"There were a small number of crew members who worked alongside of the passengers, as individuals, in aiding the abandoning of the ship. We give these men recognition as individuals, carrying a private sense of responsibility."
An Italian Line spokesman said
the line would launch an investigation of the complaint.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States was expected today to give full support to moves by Britain
and France to deal with Egypt's seizure of the Suez Canal.

While steps taken or indicated in London and Paris set the state for action, officials said the United States is working actively with the two countries in developing a plan
to keep the vital waterway permanently open to international traffic.

Death Toll

the wreck. But a crewman said it was working.

The "hows" and "whys" of the collision apparently would have to await formal investigations. Four probes are planned in this country and abroad.

The Doria, 29-million-dollar
pride of the Italian merchant fleet,
and the smaller Stockholm collided about 45 miles south of Nantucket Island, Mass., at 11:22 p.m.
Wednesday.

The Doria suffered a mortal gash in her starboard side. She sank at 10:09 a.m. Thursday in 222 feet of water.

A swarm of rescue ships picked up the survivors.

Tales Of Disorder

The final group of survivors who arrived on the Stockholm brought more tales of the disorder that marked the mass exodus from the sinking 30,000-ton Doria.

Some passengers said the first
lifeboats away from the Doria
were filled largely with crewmen.
Other survivors said the crew performed ably in the emergency.

Crewmen bitterly challenged the charges they had failed in their duty.

President Eisenhower, meanwhile, praised the work of the rescue ships and their officers. He said the rescue had been carried out in "the finest tradition of the maritime service."

In Rome, Pope Pius XII sent a message to Italian Premier Antonio Segni, expressing his sorrow over the loss of the Doria. The Pope also conveyed his apostolic blessing to survivors and their families.

The latest victim of the crash
was Norma Desandro, 4, who died in a Boston hospital last night.
She and her parents, Mr. and Mrs.
Turio Desandro, were traveling on the Doria from their old home in Italy to a new home in America.

mit the FBI to enter kidnap cases

Today's Talk

A MORNING PRAYER

To you, my Heavenly Father, I owe the light of this day, and it reminds me of every blessing I have received and that each came from Thee. Give to me strength and courage, and a renewal of faith that I may perform kindly and unselfishly each hour of this day. May I pass to others the many blessings that you have given to me, Lord. Keep me mindful.
Cleanse me in mind and heart, my Heavenly Father, and give to me
the clear vision. Teach me tenderness toward the weak or ill, and make it easy for me to be kind
and considerate toward all with whom I come in contact. Each new day may I dedicate my life
anew to Thee, and to those who most need me.

Give to me patience, humility,
a devotion to the highest ideals,
and help me to live the triumphant
life from day to day, meeting all
emergencies with courage and no complaints. Dear Father, walk with me and talk with me, no matter where I may be.

Forgive me all my transgressions, all my errors, mistakes and unintended injury in any manner toward others. May I emulate the teachings of Jesus Christ while upon His brief ministry here upon this earth. I pray for simplicity
in my personal life, and tolerance
toward all, misjudging no one.

Whether there be sunshine or not, may this be a good and useful day to me and all others, Lord.
Help me to bear in mind that "the sunrise has never failed us
yet," and that all who call upon Thee, the Father of us all, are sure to be heard and blessed.
Amen.

DON'T MAKE EXCUSES

"I like that little player," said the manager one day.
"He's always working for the team, with not a word to say.
He's playing baseball all the time; it's plain he's out to win.
He always does the best he can to bring the runners in. But if the pitcher strikes him out, he never comes to me
To make excuses, saying that the umpire couldn't see."

"He makes a lot of errors, but I
notice in his work
He gets a lot of hot ones that the other fellows shirk;
And if he drops a liner or he
boots the ball around,
He never says a pebble gave the ball an ugly bound.
He simply does the best he can
and every chance he takes.
But when he fails, excuses for his faults he never makes."

"It may be there are players far more wonderful than he,
But that faithful little worker's plenty good enough for me.
He knows he's there to get them
and he knows the dangers,
too,
And ugly bounds will happen,
he's experienced a few;
And when he makes an error he
keenly feels the shame,
But he never makes excuses—
never tries to shift the blame."

Ah, life is baseball, after all, and often we are prone
To try to shift on other men the
fault that is our own;
And unexpected obstacles in life
are often found,
And there are times when easy
things will take an ugly
bound.
If you are out to win in life, just do the best you can
And when you make an error,
face the music like a man.

5 WITH ITALIAN DEGREES SEEK TO TAKE EXAMS

HARRISBURG (AP) — Five Pennsylvanians who received medical degrees from Italian schools today looked for a chance to prove their education is on a par with that given in American schools.
The question came up Thursday when two of the doctors and their representatives testified before a legislative investigating committee looking into a ruling
which prohibits Pennsylvanians
with such educations from taking
state examinations for medical licenses.

Without a license they may not practice.
"We are not asking these doctors be admitted to private practice in the commonwealth—we just want them to be able to take the exams," said Lisa Aversa, an assistant Philadelphia district attorney and sister of one of the physicians.

Exams Prove Ability

"If it is true that the foreign
schools do not give them the necessary education then the exams
will certainly show that and they will fail them," she told the committee.

A State Medical Education and Licensure Board ruling prohibiting them from taking the tests
went under legislative investigation after the House adopted a resolution last March calling for the probe.

The 1951 board ruling was described in the resolution as "unreasonable and discriminatory."
Miss Aversa represented the Justin Society, a social-educational group of Italian-American lawyers in Philadelphia.

Dr. Charles Volpe, 30, originally of Pittston, and Dr. Zefferino Aversa, 30, of Philadelphia, were two of the five physicians who appeared before the committee.

The board ruling bans graduates of any foreign medical school
from taking the exams and thereby prohibits them from practicing in the state.

Prior to World War II graduates of Italian medical schools
were eligible to take the tests.
Drs. Aversa and Volpe were graduated from the University of Rome Medical School.

The chairman of the state board
in November, 1954, wrote Aversa saying he was not eligible to take the tests and advised him to leave his post as an intern at the Delaware County Hospital.

The letter stated he (Aversa)
was "liable to prosecution under the law for violation of the Medical Practices Act."

Dr. Aversa said many courses
of instruction at the Rome School were more intensive than those he took at Jefferson Medical College in Philadelphia where he studied before going overseas.

Saul Rogovin Beats Braves 5-2 To End Their Streak At 5 Games While Brooklyn, Redlegs Win

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

Sleepy-time Saul Rogovin, the right-hander who looks as though he's having trouble staying awake on the mound, turns out to be the guy who finally flagged down Milwaukee's pennant - pressing Braves.

The 33-year-old veteran, cut loose by Detroit, Chicago White Sox, Cincinnati and even Baltimore before catching on with the Philadelphia Phils, had the Braves breaking their backs trying to hit his slow stuff last night and won 5-2. His six-hitter ended the Braves' winning streak at five games and trimmed their National League lead to 4½ games.

Saul was practically the whole show, singling home two runs to break a two-all tie in the sixth inning after 12-game winner Lew Burdette had walked Solly Hemus purposely to fill the bases.

Dodgers Win In 10
The Brooklyn Dodgers stayed within five percentage points of second place Cincinnati by extending their winning streak to six games with a 4-3, 10-inning decision over the Chicago Cubs.

The Redlegs gained on Milwaukee by beating Pittsburgh 3-2 on Wally Post's ninth-inning triple.

And Three ex-Cardinals — Bill Sarni, Red Schoendienst and Jackie Brandt—drove in five runs among them as the New York Giants ended their losing streak at eight games with a 6-5 victory over St. Louis.

Yanks Beat A's In 14
The New York Yankees retained their 8½-game American League lead the hard way, going 14 innings to beat Kansas City 10-9 after runner-up Cleveland had won their seventh straight, 3-2, over Baltimore. Boston defeated the Chicago White Sox 4-3. Detroit beat Washington 5-4.

Brooklyn topped Chicago on Gil Hodges' scramble home from second while the Cubs were preoccupied with a meaningless double-play. Hodges had doubled to open the 10th, and when Sandy Amoros was walked intentionally, Roy Campanella popped a bunt that was trapped by third baseman Don Hoak. Campy was out at first, but Ernie Banks and Gene Baker got so involved doubling up Amoros in a rundown they overlooked Hodges. A similar play had worked for the Cubs in the ninth.

21st Homer For Long
Post's payoff triple followed a one-out single off reliever Elroy Face. Art Fowler won his ninth with an eight-hitter, including Dale Long's 21st home run that had tied it 2-all.

The Yankees, out-hit by the A's 26-16, finally won it on a walk and two errors by shortstop Mike Baxes. The A's, thrice coming from behind, had five straight hits by Hec Lopez and homers by Harry Simpson, who drove in four runs, and Vic Power. Yogi Berra, Bill Skowron and Andy Carey homered for New York with Tommy Byrne winning his sixth after relieving in the ninth. Wally Burnette, a recent Yankee farmhand, lost it after also relieving in the ninth.

MRS. GIBSON IN TENNIS FINALS

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—New York's Althea Gibson, who has won 18 tournaments this year and lost in only three, faces Mrs. William Du Pont, a former U.S. and Wimbledon champion, in today's final of the 57th annual Pennsylvania Lawn Tennis Assn. women's championship.

Miss Gibson stroked her way into the final with a 6-2, 6-4 victory yesterday over unranked Mrs. Francis A. C. Vosters of Wilmington, Del.

The veteran Mrs. Du Pont won her semifinal match 6-2, 6-4. She ousted Karol Fageros, Miami, Fla., blonde. Miss Fageros had eliminated defending champion Louise Brough and seventh-seeded Mimi Arnold to reach the fourth round.

On the men's scene, Vic Seixas of Philadelphia, seeking his seventh Pennsylvania title, takes on Sammy Giammalva, Houston, Tex., in a semifinal round match. Seixas is top seeded and Giammalva, a young Davis Cup hopeful, is rated fourth in the tournament.

YESTERDAY'S STARS
By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
PITCHING—Saul Rogovin, Phils, stopped league-leading Braves' winning streak at five games with a six-hitter, 5-2, leaving seven men stranded and driving in tie-breaking runs with a bases-loaded single.

HITTING—Wally Post, Redlegs, tripled home the winning run in the ninth to beat Pirates 3-2 and put second-place Cincinnati within 4½ games of lead.

Steel is the largest U.S. industry. Milk production is second.

ARNOLD PALMER HAS 3-STROKE LEAD IN EASTERN

By GEORGE BOWEN

BALTIMORE (AP)—Arnold Palmer, the son of a pro golfer, added evidence to the belief he'll become one of the best by going into the third round of the Eastern Open today with a three-stroke lead.

The 26-year-old from Latrobe, Pa., plastered the 6,895-yard Mount Pleasant course yesterday for a 66, six strokes below par and one shy of the record.

He had trimmed par by two strokes in his first round and yesterday's superb round left in his wake two other novice pros shooting for the lead, Jerry Kesselring of Toronto and Babe Lichardus of Hillsdale, N.J.

Earning Respect

Palmer has been earning more and more respect among the pros this year although it is only his second tour with them.

He has collected nearly $9,000, including a victory at Hartford, Conn., early this month. In a winter trip South of the Border, he won the Panama and Colombia opens.

Palmer turned pro late in 1954 after climaxing a brilliant amateur career with the National Amateur championship and victory in the All-American Amateur.

Only One Poor One

He made only one poor shot yesterday. That was a drive into pine trees off the 447-yard 15th, but he recovered to get his par four.

It was the only time he came close to a bogey. He beat par on the third and fifth holes and sent home four more birdies coming home.

On the 535-yard 10th, he reached the green with a tremendous No. 3 wood shot and his first putt was only 2 inches short of an eagle.

Reduced To 100

Palmer, who stands 2 inches less than 6 feet and weighs 170, has only two bogeys to show for the 36 holes. He was on the first and last holes in his first round.

Kesselring and Lichardus, who are touring for the first time, are a stroke to the good of three more young pros, John Knight of Springfield, Ill., Dow Finsterwald of Bedford Heights, Ohio, and Ernie Vossler of Fort Worth, Tex. Finsterwald has enjoyed considerable success, standing third among the current leading money winners.

The field was reduced to 90 pros and 10 amateurs today and will be cut further to the 60 low scoring pros for Sunday's final 18 holes.

Le Mans Grand Prix Is Starting Today

LE MANS, France (AP)—The world's most gruelling sports car endurance race—the 24-hour Le Mans Grand Prix—started today with a star-studded field of drivers behind the wheels.

When the race ends Sunday afternoon, the tired winner will have covered some 2,400 miles, about the distance from New York to Salt Lake City.

The drivers and alternates for the 46 starting cars got an almost unprecedented safety lecture on the eve of the race which last year resulted in auto racing's worst tragedy with 90 dead.

Mules To Play In Carrousel Tourney

ALLENTOWN, Pa.—Participation in the Carrousel Tournament and a return visit to Madison Square Garden feature the Muhlenberg College 1956-57 basketball card, released by Berg athletic director, George Lawson.

On December 17, 18 and 19, the Mules will be in Charlotte, N. C., as one of eight entries in the Carrousel Tournament sponsored by Davidson College. In addition to the Mules and the host school, the field will include Clemson, Wake Forest, Florida, Auburn, Colgate and St. Joseph's. The tourney was held for the first time last year, with Wake Forest winning top honors.

On January 12 the 'Berg passers will take on N.Y.U. in Madison Square Garden. Last year the Mules lost an 85-79 overtime decision to Manhattan in the big New York arena.

Muhlenberg will host Gettysburg on January 5 and play a return game on the Bullets' court February 6.

PUERTO RICAN BEATS ANAHUAC FROM MEXICO

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP)—Miguel Berrios, a busy little Puerto Rican, is looking ahead to a tentative Aug. 22 date at San Francisco with Flash Elorde of Manila after beating Kid Anahuac of Mexico City in a unanimous decision.

Berrios won the votes of all three officials last night at Madison Square Garden as he staged a rousing finish after piling up an early lead.

When Anahuac, unbeaten in his last 15 previous starts, switched to a southpaw style in the eighth, he claimed he had injured his right hand.

Claims Injured Hand

It took Berrios, 23, two rounds to solve the new style, but he really raked the Mexican with everything in the 10th.

Although the unanimous verdict drew mixed reception from the crowd of about 2,000, Berrios had a definite edge on the official cards. Referee Al Berl had 6-4, Judge Leo Birnbaum 6-3-1 and Judge Bill Recht 6-2-2. The AP card was 7-3.

"I was glad he turned southpaw," said Berrios who now lives in New York's Bronx. "I had been training against a left-handed style. I stayed on top of him in the eighth and ninth, counting on a fast finish."

Anahuac claimed he hurt his right hand in the sixth. He said he couldn't get started until the fifth because he was nervous about his first Garden start.

Anahuac, 128, became a 7-5 favorite just before ring time although Berrios, 128½, had been an 11-5 choice all week.

BUILDING AND FARM

Francis J. Murren And Five Of His Six Sons Active In 4-H; 5-Year-Old Boy Raises Steer

(Second in a series of two articles)

Continuing the story of the Murrens and 4-H one finds most of the "first generation" of Murrens—the children of Mrs. Rose Murren, Hanover R. 4, still active as local leaders.

One of the "second generation" to reach the local leader stage is Thomas R. Murren, Hanover R. 4, a grandson, who graduated from more youthful activities as a 4-H member to leadership in the county council and Senior Extension and then to local leadership of the Adams County Dairy Calf Club. Tom won about every award open to 4-H youngsters, including a Percheron pony, a number of years ago, in a judging contest.

Now a farmer on his own he is married and the father of three children, none currently old enough to be in 4-H but all scheduled to join eventually.

Most of the eight Murren grandchildren currently members of 4-H (there are five more scheduled to join when they get old enough) are children of Francis J. Murren, Francis has six boys, five of them in 4-H and all members of the Adams County 4-H Baby Beef Club, of which their father is local leader.

Boy, 5, Raises Steer
Knowing that their father was the first youth ever to win the state Farm Show 4-H grand championship, when the first contest was held, the boys hope the day will come when one of them can also win the grand champion title at the Farm Show. This year, with the best heaves they have ever grown, they hope to be getting a little closer to that coveted goal.

The youngest assistant to his father and five older brothers is Philip Louis, aged five, who is raising his own steer, "Tiny," along with the older boys who have their steers as 4-H projects. "Tiny" started out last February as a baby steer just the right size for little Philip. "Tiny" is still just the right size for Phil. The 900 pound baby beef follows along behind his little master like a sheep dog, accepts and obeys Phil's every command and often accompanies his small master on trips down the lane to the mail box to get the mail.

Rides Big Sow

Phil seems to be a friend to every animal on the place, including a few thousand chickens, 99 pigs who are well on their way to be hogs, and the huge sows that mother the litters. Phil can even climb onto the largest sow and go for "a horse-back ride" on the "mamma pig."

As is typical of Murren farms, the Francis Murren land seems to be growing something on every inch, and all of it is doing well. The cattle are sleek and contented. Father and his sons and mother all seem to work together and enjoy it.

Eldest of the children is Patrick Francis, aged 16, who is now in his seventh year as a member of the 4-H Baby Beef Club. Pat has also been a member of the Pig Club, and two years ago wound up with the grand champion steer and the grand champion pig at the South Mountain Fair. He and his brother, Stephen Edward, 13, now in his fourth year in baby beef work have shown steers at the State Farm Show at Harrisburg. The Eastern States Cooperative, a trade publication, used pictures of the steers of the two Murrens, Pat and Steve, and the steer of Glenn Zepp to illustrate a story on the 4-H baby beves at the Farm Show in 1955.

David Joseph, 11, in his second

Francis Murren (standing, center) is shown with his family and two of their prize winning steers. Murren was the first man in the state to have a grand champion 4-H steer at the state Farm Show at Harrisburg. He is now, and has been for 18 years, local leader of the county 4-H Baby Beef Club. His six sons are, seated, left to right, Mark L., 10; Philip L., 5; David J., 11; Michael J., 10; back row, Steven E., 13; Mr. Murren, and Patrick F., 16.

Philip Louis Murren, aged 5, son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Murren, Hanover R. D., doesn't need a horse to ride—he just heads for the nearest large sow on the family farm. Too young to be a 4-H member, he is, however, raising a steer just to be in step with his five older brothers who are raising steers as a 4-H project.

year of baby beef work, is giving his older brothers a run for their money as a steer raiser, but he is being crowded by the "team work" from the next step down, Mark Luke and Michael John Murren, twins, aged ten, and in their first year of baby beef work.

And as twins usually do they find that teamwork pays off. All they need would be twin calves to round out the picture, but they are doing well with two calves that are developing as well as those of their elder brothers.

David Joseph, however, can still keep ahead of the twins, basing his claim on past performance. In his first year in club work, last year, his entry placed second at the South Mountain Fair, and he showed at the State Farm Show.

The fame of the Murren family has spread internationally. They were hosts to Dhanajairo Jadhav, an Indian International Farm Youth Exchange student, and to Renee Kammer, a Swiss IFYE — and hope to get the opportunity to be host to more.

The Murrens are a contented family, close to the soil, with an evident love for growing things and for animals and the farm. They are a friendly family and visitors receive warm welcomes.

Man-made fibres such as rayon have exceeded silk consumption in the U. S. since 1927 and wool consumption since 1941.

Use Bowl To Make Wall Decoration

The Associated Press

A novel wall decoration to suit all seasons can be made in the home workshop simply by cutting a home bowl in half and mounting the two halves on a panel of pre-finished hardboard or other suitable backing.

The contents of the half bowls can be both ornamental and edible if seasonable fruits are used. Or the bowls can be filled with colorful gourds, artificial flowers or evergreens.

An attractive backing can be provided by a square of plastic finished material available at well stocked lumber yards. This can be obtained in wood grain or plain color. Use plywood glue and reinforce with screws from the back to hold the half bowls.

MORTGAGE TREND

Conventional mortgage loans made without FHA or VA backing are showing a steady gain. The United States Savings and Loan League reports that conventional lending accounted for 57 per cent of the new housing started in the first quarter of this year compared with about 50 per cent in the same period of last year.

Do-It-Yourself Projects Which Can Really Be Done

Enthusiasm frequently has led do-it-yourself home owners into starting projects they are unable to finish. Yet there are innumerable home improvement activities which the average adult can do with professional looking results, says the Construction Research Bureau, national clearing house for building information.

Here are some of the around the house jobs that require only simple skill and ordinary tools:

Building shelves, storage walls and storage cabinets that will solve the family's where-to-put-it problems. Added storage space in the home also can be made by building under-the-eaves bins and wall racks.

Painting, both interior and exterior, from outside siding, trim and shingle stain, to interior walls, door and woodwork.

Refurbishing interior walls, from patching plaster to hanging wallpaper or installing wood wall paneling.

Give new underfoot comfort and beauty to floors throughout the house by installing colorful resilient asphalt tile, such as Kentele. Insure slip-proof safety by tiling treads of stairways, and install this fire-resistant flooring on basement, attic and bedroom floors, too.

Make House Weather Tight
Save on fuel costs and increase cold weather comfort by weather stripping windows and outside doors with metal, felt or wood strips.

Repair and refinish furniture. Here you have a choice of finishes that include bleached wood, stain, shellac, varnish, lacquer and paint. Re-tie sagging springs, replace torn webbing and reupholster furniture that has lost its trim appearance.

Build indoor window shutters as a decorative means of controlling light and ventilation.

Build decorative cornices for windows to hide drapery rods.

Install resilient vinyl by-the-yard material, such as Kenflor on kitchen and laundry counters and sink tops.

Waterproof basement walls and floor, using a cement base, waterproof compound designed to stop slow seepage.

Paint porch and lawn furniture, whether wood, metal or reed.

Add outdoor living to your home by building a terrace.

Provide privacy by building a fence or planting a hedge.

Build a low cost outdoor fireplace for new outdoor family living pleasure. It need not be elaborate and costly, and it doesn't require special talents or tools.

CHEAPER LIGHTING

Fluorescent lighting is less expensive to operate than is incandescent lighting. A fluorescent lamp lights a greater area than does an incandescent bulb of equal wattage.

BRUSHING STYLE

When painting a wall, use fan-shaped strokes in all directions, says the National Paint Varnish and Lacquer Assn., until you are within a few inches of a window or door frame. At this point a few straight strokes will finish the job

Plan Hearing On
Wallpack Bend Dam
HARRISBURG (AP)—A public hearing on the proposed Wallpack Bend Dam in Pike County is being arranged for "the latter part of August."

Secretary Maurice K. Goddard of the Forests and Waters Department said Thursday he expected the hearing might be set for the last week of next month and that it will be held in Easton.

Object of the hearing is to help provide a basis for further legislation by both New Jersey and Pennsylvania. New laws are necessary to fix details of construction before the 70 million dollar Delaware River project can be started.

Both states have approved construction of the dam at the Wallpack Bend site.

However, Goddard disclosed last month that Army Engineers were testing a site at Tocks Island, near Wallpack Bend, to see if that location was better.

Under the law approved by state legislatures, Pennsylvania has 50 years in which to construct the dam. New Jersey would pay one-third the cost and take one-third the water.

KILLED BY TRUCK
HARRISBURG (AP)—Morton Watts, 75, of Harrisburg, was killed Thursday at nearby Middletown, when he walked into the path of a backing truck.

Police said the truck was operated by John Leininger of Steelton.

TEXAS PRIMARY CLIMAXES HOT CAMPAIGN BY 6

By RAYMOND HOLBROOK
DALLAS (AP)—Texas Democrats voted today for a new candidate for governor, balloted on three controversial racial referendum questions, and held precinct conventions to determine control of the state party organization.

Today's primary climaxes a torrid and colorful campaign by six candidates for the gubernatorial nomination, tantamount to election in Texas, to succeed Gov. Allan Shivers, who is not seeking the post again.

The field includes Ralph Yarborough, Austin attorney who has strong "liberal-loyalist" and labor support and U.S. Sen. Price Daniel, who has strong "middle-of-the-road" and conservative support. Need Victory
The Johnson forces scored an overwhelming victory in the May conventions, naming the senator as "favorite son" presidential candidate and the head of the delegation to the national convention which is pledged to support the
